

BELOVED GOVERNOR MOURNED BY STATE

Body of John A. Johnson
Lies in State at Minnesota Capital.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 22.—Viewed by sorrowing thousands of every walk of life, representatives alike of the lowly estate from which he rose, and the latter-day eminence he had attained, the body of John A. Johnson, late governor of Minnesota, lies in state at the capitol here today.

This afternoon the Rev. J. J. Lawler, chaplain on the governor's staff, will conduct funeral services in the capitol and tomorrow morning the body will be removed to St. Peter, where final services will be held under Presbyterian auspices, the Rev. R. E. Clarke officiating. Interment will take place in the family lot at St. Peter, where the body of Minnesota's governor will rest beside his mother.

The city wears the crepe of mourning. Flags are at half-mast, bells toll, business is practically suspended and men and women of all classes unite in a common grief.

GOPHER STATE MEN PASS RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions of regret for the death of Governor Johnson, passed by the Minnesota associations of Washington, will today be forwarded to Mrs. Johnson.

The committee which prepared the resolutions was composed of Prof. W. M. Hays, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Agriculture; Charles J. Brand, of Minnesota; and F. A. Johnson, formerly of Washington and now of St. Paul. Several addresses of tribute were made.

The resolutions are:
"Resolved, That the Minnesota Association of Washington and the Washington Alumni of the University of Minnesota, mourn with the people of our home State over the death of Governor John A. Johnson, for whom we had the profound admiration, the deepest affection, and the most sanguine hopes."

"His genial presence and inspiring words at several of our local gatherings will never be forgotten, and are part of the history of these associations."

"No native or adopted son or daughter of the North Star State ever requested a favor of the beloved governor in vain. And instances are frequent where his services were voluntarily offered to assist many of us regardless of any other consideration than that we hailed from Minnesota."

"No tribute which we can record will fittingly express our profound grief and deep personal love."

"Resolved, That we tender to his devoted wife and the members of his family our sympathies and love, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mrs. Johnson. Also that the same be spread upon the records of this association."

REGGIO INHABITANTS TERRIFIED BY SHOCKS

People Flee to Hills for Safety.
Earthquake Does Much Damage.

REGGIO, Calabria, Sept. 22.—A violent earthquake shook this city today, sending the terrified people to the hills for safety. The quake was one of the hardest that has been felt since the disaster of last December, when Messina and Reggio were practically wiped off the earth.

Considerable damage was done by today's quake, but no loss of lives is reported.

BURIAL IN KENTUCKY FOR MRS. OLDMAN

The body of Mrs. Annie E. Oldman, widow of the late M. Oldman, has been taken to Lexington, Ky., for interment in the family cemetery.

Mrs. Oldman died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William A. Wood, in this city. Mrs. Wood is the wife of the assistant disbursing officer of the Isthmus of Panama.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., SEPT. 22.

While suffering from extreme nervousness brought on, it is said, by conducting church revival services at Herndon, the Rev. Osborn Belt, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, attracted much attention in South Fairfax street this morning by his actions. The Rev. Mr. Belt, who had been to see a member of his congregation, attracted a large crowd by delivering a sermon in the street. A policeman, who was passing, took him to the station, where he remained until his brother arrived and took him home. It is believed a rest from the great strain under which he has been laboring will effect a complete recovery.

The funeral of Mrs. Nellie Brawner, who died at Providence Hospital in Washington last morning, was held from St. Mary's Church this morning. The Rev. Father Kelly conducted the services.

A meeting of Fitzgerald Council No. 459, Knights of Columbus, will be held at St. Mary's Hall, in south Royal street, this evening, when the first degree of the order will be conferred.

A Mac Magalls will leave Alexandria this evening for Roanoke to attend the State fair.

Harry Ale, forfeited $10 in police court this morning for failing to answer to the charge of assaulting Hugh Charlton.

Services in commemoration of the Day of Atonement will be held at the synagogue in Washington street next Friday evening. They will be conducted by Rabbi Irving Blum, of Cincinnati.

Miss May Russell, organizer of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, delivered an address in the Methodist Protestant Church last evening.

Col. Jos. Lane Stern last evening inspected Company G, First Virginia Regiment, which was under Capt. F. L. D. Slaymaker, and Lieut. C. H. May, and Harry Beverly.

The Rev. J. J. Wicker, of East Northfield, Mass., will on next Monday evening open revival services at the First Baptist Church in this city. The services will continue two weeks.

Aubrey Paadgett, the infant daughter of Frank and Pearl Paadgett, died at her parents' home in Oronoko street, between Columbus and Alfred streets, yesterday.

Miss Sarah Whitton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Whitton, and Frederick Lee Bartlett, were married at the home of the bride's parents in North Columbus street last evening. The Rev. J. B. Sevier, of the Second Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Miss Olive Grove, of Strasburg, was maid of honor, and John Whitton best man.

MOTORS REPLACING HORSES IN EUROPE

A recent consular report from London throws light on the rapid rate at which the horse-drawn cab is giving place to the public motor car in the streets in the metropolis. According to figures given by the home secretary, the number of licensed hackney cabs on July 1 was 4,039, a decrease of 1,290 in one year; four-wheeled cabs, 3,373, a decrease of 259; motor cabs, 3,294, an increase of 1,856. It will thus be seen that in one year the number of taxicabs had more than doubled.—New York Tribune.

WHEN HE WOKE UP.

During the South African war an Irish trooper on outpost duty one night felt so desperately tired that he thought he would have a five-minute nap. Placing his helmet on a dock he lay down, and was soon in a sound sleep. Waking suddenly, he mistook his helmet for one of the enemy, drew his sword and dealt it a severe blow.

Perceiving his mistake, the trooper picked up his helmet, which he had cut in two, and gave thanks to heaven that he had taken it off before lying down. "For," he soliloquized, "had my head been inside that it's true to one a dead man I would have been some myself at this moment!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ROOSEVELT BUSTS CREATE DISCUSSION

Committee Selects One Not Indicative of Well-Known Strenuosity.

Will former President Theodore Roosevelt be known to posterity as a man of repose, rather than the strenuous one? Will future generations know him as Roosevelt the Quiescent, instead of Roosevelt the Strenuous?

The joint committee on Library of Congress, and Superintendent Elliott Woods, of the Capitol building and grounds, have selected tentatively, if not permanently, as a bust to represent the former Vice President in the Senate Chamber, one representing him in a quiet, thoughtful pose, instead of one picturing the Senate's former presiding officer as one of action and strategy.

James Earl Frazier, sculptor, of New York, has submitted two plaster cast busts of Col. Roosevelt, for the officials to say which they prefer, and they have decided that they will select the one of quiet pose rather than the one expressing action.

The bust is to be executed in marble, and will, of course, be submitted to Mr. Roosevelt for his approval before it is finally accepted.

It will be placed in one of the niches surrounding the gallery of the Senate chamber, where all of the busts of other Vice Presidents have been placed. All of the niches are now occupied, but one of the busts of the older Presiding Officers will have to give way to make room for the one of former Vice President Roosevelt.

When the Roosevelt bust is placed in the Senate chamber it will make the fourth effigy of men now living that have presided over "the greatest deliberative legislative body in the world."

A bust of former Vice President Fairbanks has already been placed in position. The two others that are of men now living are of former Vice Presidents Levi P. Morton and Adlai E. Stevenson.

Roosevelt's term of office as Vice President lasted from March 4, 1901, to the time of President McKinley's assassination in September of the same year. He only presided over the Senate for five days, from the day he was sworn in, March 4 to March 9, the date of the adjournment of the special session of the Senate, which had been called to confirm President McKinley's Cabinet.

UNIQUE PLAN MADE FOR FLORAL PARADE

Map of Ellipse Will Show Each Entrant's Position.

One of the most unique methods ever worked out for starting a parade—one that assures the orderliness of the automobile floral pageant to be given by the Chamber of Commerce September 30—is to be adopted by the committee on arrangements to-night.

At a meeting held last night at the Automobile Club by Marshal William D. West, of the parade; Deputy Marshal Joseph Stoddard, Chairman Isaac Gans, of the general committee; T. B. Spence, Chadwick Hunter, Otto De Moll, and William Duvall, the plan was mapped out.

The plan is to have a map made of the ellipse, where the parade is to start, showing the position to be occupied by every car entered in the parade. After the entry lists close Saturday night, the positions will be decided upon, and later a map will be sent to every contestant, showing just where he is to place his car preparatory to the start of the parade.

The meeting last night was of the official parade committee, and it is conceded that its report to be made to the general committee tonight will be accepted without question.

Prospective entrants today declare the decision to have a definite understanding in advance of where the cars are to be stationed will make the parade one of the best conducted ever held in the United States. Not only does it mean an orderly start will be made, but, with the avenue roped off, it also means the same conditions will be maintained throughout the two hours the pageant is in progress.

Following the excitement over the get-away of the Munsey tour, members of the parade committee today discussed the interest which will be given the pageant by the participation in it of the Munsey cars upon their return.

These machines will not be decorated, but will be entered just as they return from their long run, and, in all probability, they will be placed in the parade according to their respective showings in the reliability.

The Munsey tourists are themselves looking forward with no little interest to entering the parade. Chairman Isaac Gans today received the following telegram from A. G. Newmyer, one of the officials of the tour:

"Munsey tour reaches Philadelphia in great shape. Met by municipal authorities and mounted escort. We are looking upon the Washington floral parade as a fitting climax to a wonderful trip."

A. G. NEWMYER.

Mr. Gans said that the arrangements which have been decided upon provide for the Munsey cars being placed near the head of the parade.

Entries are now pouring into the Chamber of Commerce and to T. B. Spence, chairman of the committee on entering the parade. A large number of cars are being signed up for the division, and on account of the little expense to enter, incurred in decorating the machines for this division and the handsome trophies that have been offered for the winning cars, it is evident that this section will be one of the features of the parade.

SEEK IMPROVEMENT OF WATER FRONT

Wharf Committee Recommends an Appropriation of $300,000.

That an appropriation of $300,000 for the improvement of the harbor front be included in the annual estimates of the Commissioners, is the recommendation made to the Commissioners by the wharf committee, consisting of Daniel E. Garges, chief clerk of the Engineer Department; J. R. Sutton, Harbor Master, and W. J. Douglas, Engineer of Bridges.

Washington's water front is characterized by the wharf committee as a disgrace to the city, an opinion agreed in by Commissioner Judson, following a personal inspection of the wharves.

Major Judson is especially interested in the development of the water front and having formerly had charge of improvements on Lake Michigan, is prepared to submit to the Commissioners a number of valuable suggestions regarding the betterment of local conditions.

The establishment of a recreation pier, as recommended by the committee, meets with the favor of the Engineer Commissioner, but for the present he is not prepared to commit himself as to the amount to be expended for that purpose. Before the conclusion of the work on estimates, Major Judson will probably make another inspection of the water front upon which will be based his recommendations concerning the appropriations for its improvement.

OFFICER SAVES MAN WHO JUMPS IN RIVER

Attempted Suicide Weighs His Pockets With Stones and Slides Down Cliff.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 22.—Jumping from a trolley car, Oscar N. Schaik, of Newark, N. J., today tried to end his life by sliding down a cliff at Florence Heights.

He was saved from death by a policeman, who slid after him from the trolley car, and he fell into the Delaware river. Schaik had weighted his pockets with heavy stones. His identity was established through a wallet containing money and letters.

In some manner Schaik had become so badly crippled that every movement brought forth cries of agony, and the pain is believed to have unbalanced his mind.

EVERYBODY BUYING PIANOS

Frederick Music Company's Great Sale of Knabe Stock of Pianos Is a Remarkable Success.

1218-1220 F St. a Very Busy Place

"It's wonderful, remarkable, it's a shame to sell them so very low." "I never thought a fine piano could be bought so very cheaply." These are expressions actually heard today in the ware-rooms at 1218-1220 F street, where the W. F. Frederick Music Company is selling off the whole Knabe stock of splendid pianos.

The word "bargain" is used so much and abused so much that it has lost its real meaning to most people; so surfeited are they with so-called bargains in all lines of business. But what other word can be used to express it when goods like Knabe pianos are being sold off at prices never before seen attached to a Knabe piano?

The Frederick Music Company bought this whole Knabe business, including over 600 pianos, to get the agency for the Knabe, Haines Bros., and other pianos controlled by the American Piano Company. It was a big deal and took a big lot of money. A certain sum was charged off for the agencies and the balance pro-rated to each instrument bought, with the result that the prices attached to them do not even represent a net cash wholesale cost; much less than that, in many cases it is not more than one-half of the value of the instrument.

In addition to the splendid lot of Knabe Grands and Uprights, there are many of those standard, old favorite Haines Bros. pianos and Marshall & Wendell pianos. There are lots of Gerhards, Armstrong, Foster, and others, brand-new, and marked down to $185, $190, $200, for fine, guaranteed, well-known makes worth twice that amount. Then there are others among the used pianos, such as Chickering, Weber, Mason & Hamlin, Miller, Kranich & Bach, Vose, Schomer, and scores of other well-known pianos, tagged as low as $100, $125, and so on.

For the fastidious musician there are Knabe Grands in the new Mignonette size and the larger Mignon size. There are Knabe Parlor Grands and Knabe Concert Grands; all marked way down; much lower than you ever saw them priced before or ever will see them again.

Come now and come prepared to secure your choice. Don't waste an hour or you may regret it when you see what others are getting. The three floors of pianos left are being looked over by hundreds of people daily, and the sales in the five days have run over one hundred pianos. Others are snatching at these "bargains," if you will ever need a piano you should come and profit by it. Easy terms of payment.
